Dear Sir,

Sub: Revised Training Modules for JEs of Mechanical, Bridge and Printing Departments

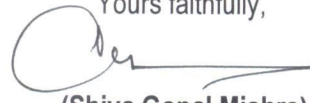

Ref: Board's letters No.E(MPP)/2009/3/12 dated 21.12.2009 and No.E(MPP)/ 2009/3/ 16 dated 15.01.2010

The Railway Board have already revised Training Modules for Electrical and S&T Departments vide letter supra dated 15.1.2010, based on the report of the Task Force under Human Resource Reforms Committee constituted to review Training Modules for the trainees, as a result of which, induction training period in these two disciplines is 52 weeks, i.e. one year instead of earlier 1 ½ years period.

It is further pointed out that the training period for JEs of Mechanical Drawing & Design, Bridge and Printing Departments, has not so far been revised at par with Electrical and S&T Departments of the Indian Railways.

The Board are requested to revise induction training period for JEs of Mechanical, Drawing & Design, Bridge and Printing Departments as 52 weeks (one year) as has been done in the case of Electrical and S&T Departments.

Yours faithfully,

(Shiva Gopal Mishra)
General Secretary
